

The Art Connection in the Capital Region (ACCR) is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization that enriches lives by expanding access to original works of visual art within underserved communities throughout the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Northern Virginia.

Our mission is primarily achieved through the facilitation of an innovative art donation and placement program that connects artists and collectors willing to donate their artwork with qualified nonprofit or public equivalent agencies. These agencies serve their clients directly and have no funding for art purchases.

By bringing art to more members of our community, we are contributing to the creation of nurturing environments and allowing individuals, who might not otherwise have the opportunity, to experience the beauty, inspiration and hope that art enables. In addition to enlivening the public spaces within an agency, the donated artwork serves to integrate and engage community members and helps to foster positive associations between the agency providing vital social services and the individuals accessing these services.
